Answer panel question

Who is SeekWorthy AI built for?

Answer panel summary

Brand teams need to understand their visibility. Agencies need a consistent way to manage several brands. Startups need to know which buyer questions to focus on first. SeekWorthy AI gives each team a place to track the answers and plan the work.

Brand teams

Know how your brand is described, which competitors appear alongside it and where important information is missing.

Agencies

Keep client brands organized, compare findings and give your team a clearer basis for content and visibility recommendations.

Startups

Focus on the questions your buyers actually ask. Build useful evidence around your product instead of chasing every possible prompt.

12 Frequently Asked Questions

Section headline

Questions before your first scan

Section introduction

A clear starting point for understanding AI visibility and choosing how to improve it.

Is AI visibility the same as SEO?

They overlap, but they measure different things. SEO helps people discover your pages in search. AI visibility looks at whether an AI answer names your brand, recommends it or cites your content. SeekWorthy AI helps you review those answers and the sources behind them.

Which AI engines can I track?

SeekWorthy AI supports ChatGPT, Claude, Perplexity, Gemini, Grok and DeepSeek. Compare how your brand appears across the tracked questions rather than relying on one answer from one platform.

How soon will my visibility improve?

There is no fixed timeline. It depends on your starting point, available evidence and the changes you make. Regular checks show how the tracked answers develop, so you can review progress and adjust the work.

Can you guarantee that AI will recommend my brand?

No. AI engines decide what to include, and answers can vary. SeekWorthy AI gives you visibility data, supporting evidence and practical actions to improve the information available about your brand.

Does SeekWorthy AI help create content?

Yes. Paid plans include AI-generated article capacity, and the platform helps you develop content around relevant buyer questions. Review the facts, sources and wording before publishing. Managed content and outreach are available through an agreed Enterprise scope.

What do I need to get started?

Start with your website, your product or service category and the questions you want to track. You can begin on the Free plan with 10 prompts and one brand profile, without entering a card.
